

ROME HERBERT

BOLD MUSIC TO FIGHT YOUR FEARS.

With over a decade of performing experience in several cities across the US, Rome Herbert is an artist on a mission to bond the room and build the mood of any space he is a part of.

"Rome Herbert is one of the most engaging live performers I've ever seen."

• Troy Freeman
Select Few Sessions Host & Promoter

After a transformational conversion experience coming into his faith in Jesus as a teenager, Rome was invited to perform at a youth group in his home city. Growing up shy and reserved, he had performed only a few times previously and this was his first big step since the shift. Engaging the crowd with hype songs alongside his best friend on stage felt like a groundbreaking moment of freedom that made the leap of faith worth it, but the real breakthrough was when he played a song he wrote about his first encounter with death and grieving a close relative.

"Rome has a way at every show to make the audience feel seen in a touching way."

• Alvin Laguerre
Artist, Producer & Engineer

Despite feeling as if the content was such a unique and lonely experience and unsure how the reception would be, to his surprise he looked and saw tears filling the eyes of audience members. After the set, story after story was shared about their own personal suffering with loss.

"Rome Herbert's energy and stage presence is on another level."

• Mars Davis
Artist

It was at this moment he decided that this space of connection is what he wanted to curate with his music and movement for the rest of his life, providing hope to the hidden pain of those unseen through bold vulnerability.
